DEATH IN THE STORM

Home Washed Away and Mother and Two Children Meet Death in Lawrence Creek Flood

The cloudburst of yesterday afternoon first struck Lawrence creek at Moransburg, four miles west of Maysville, on the Germantown pike.

A dwelling on the farm of W. L. Moran, situated near the creek, was swept away by the sudden flood and three persons were drowned—a mother, son and a daughter.

The victims were the wife and children of Daniel Boone, a descendant of the great pioneer of that name.

The bodies of Mrs. Boone and her eighteen-year-old son and that of the daughter were all recovered, so we are informed.

There were other casualties in that vicinity,
but the particulars have not reached this office.

About 27 years ago a cyclone swept over Lawrence creek (Moransburg) and nearly wiped it off the map, even blowing the water out of the creek.

to be layed across the rail, which is not feasible on account of passing trains. Suppose you attend to the matter at once?

CALL FOR REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

Pursuant to instructions from the Ninth District Congressional Committee, the Republicans of Mason county are called to meet in mass convention at the Courthouse in Maysville on Saturday, April 4th, at 1 o'clock p. m., standard time, to select delegates to the Congressional Convention to be held at Grayson on April 8th for the purpose of nominating a Republican candidate for Congress in said District.

IN his address to the graduating class of the University of Vermont, President BUCKHAM said "that abuses call out two classes of reformers, some remedial and some destructive." The latter kind are most numerous in some sections, but they have had their day. We have had them before. Like some epidemics, they have their periodical appearances and disappearances. The Kentucky night riders are evidently in the "destructive reformer" class, and we may hope that after they have had their day, or rather their night, we will have peace, law and order in old Kentucky.

TAKING as a text CHESTERFIELD'S remark, "little minds are in a hurry," The Abilene Reflector of Kansas preaches this leisurely sermon: "Hurry caused Mr. CORTELYOU to launch his Presidential boom before it had been caulked, and it sank in 10 seconds, within 10 feet of shore, in 10,000 fathoms. Hurry cost NAPOLEON the field of Waterloo and a life sentence on a rock as lonesome as the Vice-Presidency. NEWTON was loafing under an apple tree when he discovered gravity. CLEVELAND was fishing when he was subpoenaed to the White House. WATT was chinning the cook in the kitchen and delaying breakfast when he discovered the steam engine. You don't have to hurry any such thing."

Mrs. A. Gregory, of 2355 Lawrence St., Denver, Col., writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I was practically an invalid for six years, on account of female troubles. I underwent an operation by the doctor's advice, but in a few months I was worse than before. A friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it restored me to perfect health, such as I have not enjoyed in many years. Any woman suffering as I did with backache, bearing-down pains, and periodic pains, should not fail to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Why don't you try it?

CLOUD BURST

Strikes Maysville Yesterday Afternoon—Unprecedented Rainfall Makes Rivers of Streets

Yellow Waters Rush Down With Frightful Suddenness and Velocity

Many Homes Ruined, and the Total Losses Will Reach Thousands of Dollars

Maysville was treated to a genuine April 1st surprise yesterday afternoon in the shape of a first-class deluge. Some idea of the magnitude of the rainstorm may be gained when we state that the water rushed down Third street like a young river a foot deep and a skiff could have navigated without touching bottom.

The worst sight, sublime, too, but appalling to property owners, was that presented in West Third street beyond the County Jail, where the turgid waters came leaping down the hollow from along the Lexington pike and leaped across Third street, tossing its yellow mane nearly 20 feet in the air. Similar scenes were presented in many sections of the city. Maysville rests at the foot of two of the beautiful hills of the Ohio Valley and the waters rush down and get beyond control of the sewers, owing to the closeness and the steepness of the declivity.

Yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock a gentle rain began to patter on the brick streets. It soon became a regular downpour, accompanied by one of the hardest precipitations of hail witnessed here in a long time. For fifteen minutes the rain and hail continued and the falling torrent soon to be a regular cloud burst. For three miles along the South boundary of Maysville the angry waters poured down from the low lying clouds that seemed to touch the hills, providentially, only bringing destruction of homes and property, but no human fatalities here.

The worst of the deluge came from the rocky stream bordering the Lexington Pike. The waters gathered and stopped up the sewer near the location of the old powder magazine site. The houses on the East side of the pike intersecting Third and Fourth streets all overflowed and were greatly damaged. The water followed the course of the old sewer back of the Colored Church in West Fourth street; thence down back of the County Jail, through the residence of Mr. S. R. Brooks, a substantial brick house. The entire lower floors of his dwelling were flooded by six feet of water and everything completely ruined. Thence it leaped across Third street through the Rains warehouse and down Sheepskin Alley, finding an outlet through the fine homes of the Misses Heiser, Mr. J. C. Pecor, the livery stable of Daulton Bros. and the big establishment of Joseph H. Dodson.

Mr. and Mrs. Brooks suffered the worst personal loss; the total damage to household furniture and property will reach $1,000.

The Rains tobacco and grain warehouse on the North side of West Third was flooded to a depth of six feet, the water reaching to the fifth sack of wheat in the pile. Their total damage on property and grain is placed at $7,000, with no insurance.

The Misses Heiser had at least $500 worth of groceries in the basement of their dwelling and all was ruined, together with considerable other personal property.

The loss of Mr. J. C. Pecor is considerable, as was Daulton Bros. and Mr. J. H. Dodson.

The large frame residence of Mr. James Gollenstein on the hill above the Germantown pike was partially undermined and a great section of the West wall tumbled down, causing nearly $1,000 loss.

The residence of Mr. James Butcher was also badly damaged by a cave-in and his loss is heavy.

The frame dwelling in West Second street owned by Mrs. Bendel and occupied by Robert McClellan was flooded and much damage done, and the residence adjoining it on the West owned by Randolph Frost and occupied by J. E. Snodgrass was damaged to the extent of $100.

Mr. James Redmond, the Second street grocer, lost $200 worth of tobacco stored in the cellar under his store.

The water was 6 feet deep rushing through the Brooks residence smashing out doors, windows, etc.

When the storm ended the rumor spread that four children were drowned in a house in Graves Alley. A party waded to the scene through several feet of mud and water, and such a place of ruin and desolation was rarely presented. Everything in the poor and humble habitation was swept into dirty heaps by the rushing waters—beds and furniture broken, heaped under loads of mud and gravel. It was occupied by Laban Vermillion and wife and four children. The father and mother were working at the Cotton Mills and had left their children at home. Luckily the children made their escape as the flood swept in the home, going out the back way just in the nick of time, as no human being could have survived in the swirling water. Kind neighbors cared for the children, and oh, what a pitiful scene of desolation was presented to father, mother and children when they all gathered at nightfall to grieve over the loss of all their possessions.

Surely our city officials and good citizens should reach out the tender hand of pity and at least partially assist this destitute family to refurbish their humble little home-nest.

Over 500 cartloads of rock and dirt are deposited on the street opposite Rains Bros. warehouse.

At Kenton Station, hail fell to a depth of a foot.

The brick street on West Third was damaged to the extent of several hundred dollars.

The torrent which swept down the terraced waterfall just South of the present High School building, menaced the lives and property of the occupants of the Cox residences on Fourth street. The sewer near the High School became clogged with rock brought down by the flood, and the street and sidewalks in front of several residences were covered to a depth of nearly a foot and only lacked an inch of reaching the first floors. All basements were flooded several feet deep; that in the residence of Rev. P. A. Cave was the worst to suffer and his loss and inconvenience was the most severe along that thoroughfare. The water tore great cavities in the alleys and along the hillsides, and in the West End—Pigtown—the evidences of the cloudburst were more apparent than in any other portion of the city.

The water dashed over the great arch culvert on the Germantown pike at Smoky Hollow and carried the large stone coping clear away and at one time it was thought the culvert would succumb. The culvert near the residence of Mr. Clarke Rogers, leading to the Rogers Distillery, was washed away.

The volume of water rushing against the culvert on the Germantown pike was over 30 feet high and entirely choked the C. and O. culvert below.

The loss to the Pogue Distillery Company will reach nearly $1,000. Much damage was done to fences and outbuildings, and one big warehouse, containing 12,000 barrels of whiskey, was flooded to a depth of two feet. The whiskey was not damaged, but the looks of the barrels and floor tell what it is to be soaked with yellow mud even for a half hour.

The waters were rushing into the M. C. Russell Company building basement, opposite The Ledger Office, and the Russell Brothers and all hands turned out in the storm of rain and hail and battled with boards and tarpaulins to keep the flood out of the cellar and thus saved a big loss.

In the First Ward School Building hail broke many windows and a small panic ensued. In many homes women and children were greatly frightened.

This was the worst local cloudburst ever experienced in Maysville. However, on July 31st, 1882, there was a big rainpour which followed the same course as yesterday's big event. One in a century is quite enough.

Freight train 465 was caught in the wash-out just West of the McDougle home. One car was damaged by the storm and the train was hung up in a sea of mud and debris. The Eastbound local freight was caught at the same point and both trains were stalled for 5 hours. No. 3 was 6 hours late, but the up trains came through on fairly good time.

There was a washout on the L. and N. three miles back of Maysville delaying all trains.

Bull creek and Lawrence creek were both out of their banks.

Back of Aberdeen, on the Brookover farm, William Wilson, a tenant, and family just escaped drowning as their home was swept away by the flood in Fishgut creek.

The damage on Tuckahoe was said to be quite heavy. Dover could not be heard from, owing to the telephone line being out of commission from the storm.

We have only given a smattering of the details of the storm and the consequent damages. Scores of families had carpets and much household property ruined and the work of cleaning up will be no inconsiderable task and expense.

But we may all thank the Lord that we escaped so easily—at least the majority of us.

The total damage hereabouts will reach $25,000.

The water was 6 inches deep in Fred W. H. Williams' Jewelry store in front room and 18 inches deep in back room.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Kimbrough left this morning for a visit to Mrs. Belle Wardle at Lexington, after which they will spend the summer at Cynthia.

EDUCATIONAL

Under the provisions of the Sullivan Law every county will be divided into four to eight subdivisions.

Each of the subdivisions will be divided into School Districts, with one Trustee for each school.

These Trustees will elect a Chairman for the subdivision, who will be a member of the County Board of Education, of which the County School Superintendent will be the Chairman.

The Trustees will select the teachers and have charge of the supervision of the schools in their respective subdivisions, while the County Board of Education will attend to all other features of the school system, including the fiscal matters, erection of school buildings, purchase of supplies and everything of an executive nature.

It is also provided that within two years a High School shall be established in every county of the State not now possessed of one.

The Sullivan Law also makes it mandatory for the Fiscal Court of each county to set apart an annual school appropriation as recommended by the County Judge, County Attorney and County School Superintendent.

It is maintained by the friends of the common school that this law will result in advancing Kentucky fifty years in the conduct of its Public School system, and that the new law will prove of inestimable value in broadening the scope of the work and placing it on an intelligent and well defined basis.

It is rightly believed that this Educational Commission has a greater opportunity before it for shaping the educational destinies of Kentucky than any other legally authorized body ever provided for in the South.

The bill creating a County Board of Education and doing away with the present cumbersome School Trustee System many men prominent in education and in politics both have said that there is a greater possibility of improvement for the Common Schools in this measure than in all the others put together.

"MY CREED," WHICH SHOULD BE OUR CREED.

You do not need to remind me of My Creed. Here it is to remain intact for four years:

1. I believe in
1. The absolute redemption of the schools from politics.
2. Better schools and better school houses.
3. A longer term for the rural schools.
4. Better paid teachers.
5. The total annihilation of the traffic in examination questions.
6. A great modern University equipped, manned and exploited to the highest degree of efficiency.
7. Splendid Normal Schools for the thorough professional training of teachers.
8. The very best text books for Kentucky schools and at the lowest prices consistent with this standard of quality.
9. School suffrage for women.
10. The physical, intellectual, moral and spiritual uplift of the schools of Kentucky to a plane as high as the highest among the sisterhood of States.

I earnestly solicit your assistance at every point along the line.

Yours for the schools,
J. G. CRABBE,
State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

HIDDEN DANGERS.

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Maysville Citizen Can Afford to Ignore.

DANGER SIGNAL No. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy or a thick, red, ill-smelling urine, full of sediment and irregular of passage.

DANGER SIGNAL No. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy or sharp and acute tell you of sick kidneys and warn you of the approach of dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently.

Here's Maysville proof:
Mrs. Harvey Lyons, living in the Western part of Maysville, Ky., says:

"In my estimation Doan's Kidney Pills are an ideal kidney remedy, and I have no hesitancy in so expressing myself. My husband was bothered a great deal by a severe pain across his back, and although his condition was never so serious that he was obliged to lay off from work, he nevertheless was in misery. An added source of annoyance was the irregular action of the kidney secretions, this symptom denoting that his trouble arose from disordered kidneys. Being advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, he procured a supply at J. J. Wood & Son's Drugstore, and they acted just as beneficially in his case as in many others that he had read about. A short use entirely cured him, and up to the present time there has been no return of the trouble. Recently I was suddenly afflicted with a similar trouble, but began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and from the beneficial result already received I look forward to a complete cure."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

JUSTICE HARLAN

The Big Kentuckian Discourses on Sunday Observance and is Discussed by Others

Justice Harlan spoke at a mass meeting of citizens at Washington recently, for a stricter observance of Sunday. He said: "Nations that turn Sunday into a holiday are rotten and on the down grade. They are continental Sundays. There are dinners, banquets and things going on in Washington social affairs on Sunday that I did not see twenty-five years ago. I wish that our great and good President would close the Postoffices in this country on Sunday; yes, close every Postoffice from Maine to California."

It was a large and enthusiastic gathering that listened to Judge Harlan and other speakers. The meeting adopted all sorts of resolutions to stop the things from being open on Sunday. Justice Harlan, in addition to being Justice of the Supreme Court and an eloquent speaker, is also an expert on the merits of chewing tobacco. The Justice was a streaker, the Conductor of which had evidently seen him before and not infrequently. Some time before the car reached the Capitol, the Justice took a capacious bag from his pocket, opened it up and drew therefrom three plugs of a very black looking tobacco. Taking a knife from another pocket, he proceeded to slice off a well-intentioned portion, which he put away where it would do the most good.

The Conductor had apparently been waiting for this, for no sooner had the three black plugs vanished in the Justice's pocket than did the Conductor come forward and, with a little blush of embarrassment, proffered a large but not such somber-looking plug.

"Here, Mr. Justice, I wish you would try that; that tobacco is good Kentucky leaf."

Justice Harlan looked the plug over closely and finally said: "All right; if it's Kentucky plug I'll try it." "But," he continued, "I want to give you one of these plugs of mine. I have three plugs with me."

"No, thank you, sir," said the collector of fares. "I like the kind I just gave you best." When he reached the platform though, he said something that sounded like this: "Them Supreme Court Justices showly must have good constitutions to chew that black stuff."

HOW HE HAS MADE A SUCCESS

L. T. Cooper Tells Chicago Reporter Why He Accomplishes So Much.

No man in recent years has been more successful in restoring human health than L. T. Cooper. During his stay in Chicago, and while he was meeting thousands of people daily, he gave the following reason for the remarkable demand for his medicine to a reporter:

Mr. Cooper said: "My New Discovery is successful because it corrects the stomach. My theory is that few can be sick if the digestive apparatus is working properly. It naturally follows that few can be well with a poor digestion."

"I know from experience that most of the tired, half-sick people that are so common now-a-days have half-sick stomachs. Put the stomach in shape, and nature does the rest. The result is general good health. My medicine does this. That is why fifty thousand people here in Chicago are using it who never heard of me until a month ago."

Among the fifty thousand mentioned by Mr. Cooper who used his medicine in Chicago is Mrs. Hilda Pfeuffer, living at 1203 Alsie Avenue. This is the statement she makes concerning her experience with the medicine: "I have been sick for six years with stomach trouble. I was always hungry, but did not dare to eat much, as I had severe pains in my stomach, and also through my body. I could not sleep at night and was very restless. I was also very nervous, and would have severe headaches. I was constipated, and always felt bloated after eating.

Gage marks 45.5 and rising.

"I had tried many remedies, but could secure no relief, until one day I noticed in the newspaper, what wonderful results Cooper's medicines were accomplishing in Chicago. I decided to try them, and shortly after commencing the treatment I began to feel better. I did not have those severe pains in my stomach, and I could sleep at night; my appetite improved, and I can now eat well. I am feeling like a new woman."

"I am very thankful to Mr. Cooper for what his remedies have done for me. They have restored me to good health, and I would advise any one who suffers a I did to try them."

"We see the Cooper medicines. They are easily the most celebrated preparations ever introduced in this country, growing in popularity daily."

LEXINGTON STANDARD.

Lexington Leader.

The Lexington Standard, for many years the representative newspaper of the Negro race in this section, has been revived by W. D. Johnson, who was one of its early Editors and afterward founded and conducted The Kentucky Standard at Louisville for years, and who has been out of active newspaper work for a few months. Editor Johnson is a man of character and convictions and has demonstrated exceptional ability as a writer and newspaper manager. He is thoroughly loyal to his own race and its aspirations and at the same time fully appreciative of the necessity of maintaining kindly and helpful relations with the white people and his editorial leadership will always be along conservative lines.

The Standard is strongly for Judge Taft for the Presidency, as its Editor has had an acquaintance with the Secretary of War for a long time, having met him and learned to admire him when teaching a colored school in Cincinnati many years ago.

Editor Johnson is a candidate for delegate-at-large to the Chicago Convention, pledged to support Judge Taft, and he has written many forceful articles taking issue with writers who would array Negro Republicans against the distinguished Ohio statesman.

The Leader wishes The Standard and its new Editor the success they deserve.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

The Maysville Board of Education met at the High School Building Tuesday evening. Following is a resume of the proceedings:

The census enumerators were appointed for the ensuing year.

The report of the last teachers' examination was submitted by Mr. Russell. As a matter of courtesy to the applicants the grades were withheld.

On motion of Mr. Cochran, the Masonic Order was invited to lay the cornerstone of the new High School Building. All other Orders and the public generally were invited to be present.
